INT. BASEMENT - TIME INDETERMINATE

LUCIEN sits bathed in the glow of his computer monitor. It is the only light source in the room. He appears to be speaking to himself.

LUCIEN

I don't get why you don't understand this.

He types furiously.

LUCIEN

It's not like it's rocket surgery. It's a very simple concept and if you'd take five minutes to do even the slightest bit of research you'd see it for yourself.

He rambles off the words slowly as he types them.

LUCIEN

I am forced to assumed that you are inbred as your entire post history is inane enough that I wish to inject syphilis infected bong water in to your eye. That is perhaps the only thing that would make me feel better at this time. I've been trying to figure out what seems to be lacking to your incoherent ramblings and I believe I have figured it out. Your gene pool lacks a deep end.

He makes a few clicks with his mouse.

LUCIEN

Son of a bitch. Let's see how you like that.

Lucien begins sorting through the junk on his desk. Finding a half eaten bag of potato chips he lounges back and begins snacking.
